

Loss, Death and Work for Organisations and Individuals

Building Humanity in Challenging Times

David Charles-Edwards

Author of Handling Death and Bereavement at Work

This specialist seminar is suitable for human resource managers, union representatives and those with a supportive role for staff in the workplace. It will explore how to deal with the challenges that grief and change (e.g. downsizing) bring to a workplace. How can these be managed well - “how you treat those that go is the beginning of motivating those that stay” - so that the organisation retains or gains its sense of humanity?

Wed 11th May, 9.30am – 12.30pm, Cost: €75

Venue: Irish Hospice Foundation, 32 Nassau St. Dublin 2

Booking Details—Please detach and return

Application—DCE 11 May

All completed booking forms should be returned with either a cheque or details of the address to which the invoice should be sent.

Payment

Please make cheques payable to: The Irish Hospice Foundation, and send to: Iris Murray, Irish Hospice Foundation, Morrison Chambers, 32 Nassau Street, Dublin 2. Ph. 01 6793188 Fax: 01 6730040. Email: iris.murray@hospice-foundation.ie, Web: www.hospice-foundation.ie

Full Name: _____

Organisation: _____

Job Title: _____

Address: _____

Phone Wk: _____

Hm/Mobile: _____

Email : _____

Disability / Special Requirements: _____